The Beryl Institute is a global community of healthcare professionals and experience champions committed to transforming the human experience in healthcare. As a pioneer and leader of the experience movement and patient experience profession for more than a decade, the Institute offers unparalleled access to unbiased research and proven practices, networking and professional development opportunities and a safe, neutral space to exchange ideas and learn from others.

We define the patient experience as the sum of all interactions, shaped by an organization’s culture, that influence patient perceptions across the continuum of care. We believe human experience is grounded in the experiences of patients & families, members of the healthcare workforce and the communities they serve.
As we entered 2021, we did so with hope, with aspiration and with a commitment to action for all we learned in the year gone by. As 2020 challenged us to be agile, 2021 became a year to check ourselves at our core and to find and build on our resilience. I do not think we fully anticipated the continuation of the pandemic to follow us up to and through 2021’s back door, but it has. This calls on us to truly recognize all that we have accomplished in the last year.

We ended 2020 talking about how we stood together, we bolstered one another and came together as a community in searching for answers and creating solutions. 2021 became a year of using that connection for something greater. We were determined in words but more so in action to turn the lessons of 2020 and the lingering pandemic into something bigger. That is what this community of experience champions, healthcare professionals, patients, family members and care partners, solution providers, and ultimately human beings, stood for alongside one another.

2021 was about driving deep stakes in the ground, about not being stopped and about co-creating a future. While we know this year brought incredible strain to the healthcare system, placed stress on so many of us as professionals and people and created incredible strife in our communities and, for some, in our own families, this community, The Beryl Institute community, the global experience community, found something bigger to drive it forward. That is what 2021 will forever remind me.

In building on the words and call to action for a New Existence in healthcare, our community took and continues to take a stand for something bigger than ourselves. We declared an unwavering commitment to not just elevate but to transform the human experience in healthcare. Together we said community experience matters, that we must break the hold of systemic racism in healthcare (and beyond) and do all we can to dismantle disparities in care and outcomes. Together we said our workforce experience matters, that we must commit to not just helping reaffirm purpose but to create an opportunity for healing. Together we said we must always seek to understand, respond to and act on what matters to patients, family members and care partners.

That this is grounded on our core philosophy at the Institute is no accident: “We will collaborate through shared learning within and between organizations, systems and the broader healthcare continuum.” In doing so, we will forge a bold new path to a more human-centered, equitable and effective healthcare system. It is who we are as a community and who we represent in the diverse tapestry of individuals who, together, are The Beryl Institute.

What we built together in 2021 is the very foundation on which our future will rise. We declared we must transform the human experience, expanded our global community, committed to equity and inclusion, and focused on sharing, improvement, healing and building trust. I believe, more so I know, we will rise together through these commitments we make, these hopes we have and these intentions that guide us. As we look back, we turn our heads to move forward knowing that this experience of pandemic and stress will not break us but, rather, embolden us. We have big things to do ahead, and we have laid the groundwork to do just that.

I am grateful for all you have shared and taught one another and me, and I am boundlessly inspired by the next steps we will take together. On we go.

Our shared experience over the past year has shifted the foundation of healthcare forever, exposing systemic weaknesses and wounds that can no longer go untreated. Immersed in a global pandemic, we acted with agility and urgency to innovate at a pace never seen before.

Healthcare professionals and organizations never hesitated to respond to the needs of patients and the communities they serve, even as hospitals overflowed with patients, adequate staffing and supply levels grew challenging and exhaustion overwhelmed the healthcare workforce. As COVID-19 cases and deaths climbed higher, the devastating impact of systemic disparities, inequities and injustices faced by people of color and marginalized populations became painfully apparent.

While the world has been inspired by the level of compassion and care that healthcare professionals have demonstrated time and time again, this service and sacrifice has come with a heavy price. With the clouds of COVID-19 beginning to lift, the real impact of trauma and an ever-increasing demand for rapid change is looming over a healthcare workforce that was showing signs of stress and burnout years before the pandemic.

Although these issues are not new, this moment has exposed the shortcomings in our approach and the need for a fundamental shift in thinking and direction. We are now at a critical inflection point. There is no normal to which to return; and those who slide back, either intentionally searching for the comforts of the past or due to lack of clarity on how to push forward, are likely to become obsolete in a new world.

Our current realities call us to forge a new existence that begins with looking beyond the distinct silos of patient experience, employee engagement or community health to focus on the common thread that binds each of these areas together—the human experience. By elevating and transforming the human experience in healthcare, we can create a more effective, responsive and equitable healthcare system that results in better experiences and outcomes for patients of all backgrounds, a more supportive, energizing and collaborative environment for healthcare professionals and healthier communities that break down barriers to care.

We are called to lead courageously with the understanding that we are, first and foremost, human beings caring for human beings. In answering this call, we commit to:

- Acknowledge and dismantle systemic racism and prejudice, tackle disparities and provide the highest-quality, most equitable care possible.
- Understand and act on the needs and vulnerabilities of the healthcare workforce to honor their commitment and reaffirm and reenergize their purpose.
- Recognize and maintain a focus on what matters most to patients, their family members and care partners to ensure unparalleled care and a commitment to health and well-being.
- Collaborate through shared learning within and between organizations, systems and the broader healthcare continuum to forge a bold new path to a more human-centered, equitable and effective healthcare system.

In making this declaration personally and publicly, we stand for all we can and must be in healthcare. In aligning our words and actions to move this cause forward, we commit to transforming the human experience in healthcare for all patients, the healthcare workforce and the communities we serve.

In 2021, 73 Organizations and 898 Individuals signed the Declaration for Human Experience, aligning their words and actions to move this cause forward, committing to excellence in the human experience for patients, the healthcare workforce and the communities we serve.
In 2021, we expanded our global efforts at the Institute in significant ways. Institute speakers participated in events on the continents of Asia, Europe, North & South America and Australia.

In expanding our global community, we took on very clear efforts this year including:

• Global Council. We established and launched our Global Council bringing together experience leaders across six continents. The council set a number of key priorities for 2022 which focus on:

  • Measurement: Can we create a standardized way of measuring across countries?

  • Assessment: How do we help people know where they are and how to get better?

  • Learning/Sharing Practice: How can we better identify and share great work/successes and gather and share more global cases via Institute learning streams?

  • Events/Collaborations: What type of events can we create or partner with regionally/locally to highlight our work?

The Global Council was also instrumental in contributing to the paper, A Global Perspective on Elevating the Human Experience in Healthcare.

• Translated Papers. The Institute worked with supporting partner LanguageLine to begin production of major publications and a few resources in a series of languages including Spanish, French, Portuguese, Arabic and Chinese. The following publications are now available in those languages: Consumer Perspectives on Patient Experience 2021, Human Experience 2030, To Care is Human: The Factors Influencing Human Experience in Healthcare Today; Overview of The New Existence and The Declaration to Transform Human Experience.

• Global Affiliate Network. At the close of the year, the Institute introduced the Global Affiliate Network and its inaugural member - Sociedade Brasileira de Experiência do Paciente e Cuidado Centrado na Pessoa (SOBREXP) in Brazil. We established the Global Affiliate network to identify and recognize organizations around the world that are aligned in values and purpose with the Institute and its global efforts. Through the network, the Institute is committed to fostering a growing global network of organizations who are working to elevate the conversation on human experience in healthcare; ensuring a broader and deeper regional focus on experience knowledge and practice; and expanding a web of shared learning to support all in achieving experience excellence. Experience related institutes and associations are now in the process of joining the network as we start 2022.

Many more efforts await in integrating our global community while acknowledging and learning from both our similarities and distinctions. In the last year, we were able to see how truly connected the global experience movement truly is, and we look forward to leading the way into next year and beyond.
In 2021, PXPF continued to advocate for and help shape policy at the national and local levels on issues that directly affect patient and family experience and elevate the human experience in healthcare.

The Patient Experience Policy Forum (PXPF) is a broad-based coalition of healthcare organizations and patient and family advisors engaged in advocacy and action to give a greater voice in healthcare policy to those working to improve the patient and family experience.

In 2021, we published four PXPF Policy News articles:

- Patient Experience Policy Forum (PXPF) Calls for Action on Pending Telemedicine Legislation Before Congress

Connections

As a global (and virtual) community of practice committed to elevating the human experience in healthcare, we also believe the opportunity for connection, learning and expanding our conversation must be sustained. Although we did not gather in-person again in 2021 for the health and safety of our community, the Institute continued to provide a variety of virtual connections for the community to engage and network with others, share ideas and gain perspectives from other likeminded individuals.

PX Connect 2021

We were excited to see our online community, PX Connect, continue to provide an opportunity for members to exchange ideas, share resources and connect with one another.

We have a total of 35,338 Members with PX Connect accounts, 694 new discussion threads/conversations and 2,594 total posts (these include original posts & responses on old ones).

Popular discussion topics included:

• How our health systems can better connect with families of patients
• Health disparities
• How Language Services can increase patient outcomes
• Communicating increased wait-times in ED to patients & family
• Rethinking surveys, tracking PX, HCAPS
• Patient Experience Liaison’s – how & when to hire for this role
• Training staff on the Patient Experience “Bundle” - how all actions across the continuum of care (from greeting to discharge) affect the outcome
• Navigating & upskilling staff on service recovery
• Addressing increased workplace violence concerns from both patients & families
• Using Patient Belonging tracking as another opportunity to increase PX satisfaction
• Overall PX Strategy & the topics that matter most
Combining learning opportunities with social gatherings, motivational keynotes and a virtual exhibit hall, ELEVATE PX (our re-branded Patient Experience Conference) provided four days of connections to support and re-energize our community of experience champions and took place during Patient Experience Week. ELEVATE PX included over 65 breakout and poster sessions from presenters around the globe and offered up to 23.25 CE credits for both live and recorded sessions.

Presenters comprised the voices of patients, families, caregivers, hospital executives, physicians, consultants, nurses and industry leaders sharing proven practices, innovations and strategies. Virtual sessions were categorized by the eight strategic lenses of the Experience Framework:

- Culture & Leadership
- Infrastructure & Governance
- Staff & Provider Engagement
- Policy & Measurement
- Environment & Hospitality
- Innovation & Technology
- Patient, Family & Community Engagement
- Quality & Clinical Excellence

For the first time ever, ELEVATE PX offered all keynote and breakout sessions in two distinct time blocks, making it just as convenient for our members in Asia or Australia to participate as it was for those in North or South America. Participants were able to select A or B session times to design the best schedule for themselves.

In addition, we were able to offer a great opportunity for participants to explore an array of experienced-focused solutions in our virtual exhibit hall. Participants had the ability to roam an online exhibit hall and make one-to-one connections with PX Marketplace exhibitors through virtual booths and appointments.

We know nothing replaces the opportunity to physically be together as peers committed to building the experience movement, but the Institute was excited to better meet the needs and desires of the community by designing and offering an event that was sure to be like no other virtual experience.

Special Interest Communities

Special Interest Communities serve as a connection among healthcare leaders committed to improving the patient experience in an identified role or area of interest. They foster collaboration and offer a venue for sharing ideas, practices, challenges and opportunities.

Each community offers:

- A library of curated content supporting the community theme, including white papers, webinar recordings, PX Learning Bites, blogs and other resources
- An online community discussion platform and resource library available through the PX Connect Community
- Events and networking opportunities, including an annual gathering at the global patient experience event, Elevate PX
- A regular email newsletter highlighting new resources and upcoming events

In 2021, we were proud to offer the following communities:

- Ambulatory Care Community
- Patient Advocacy Community
- Patient and Care Partner Community
- Pediatric Community
- Volunteer Professionals Community
- Long-Term Care Community*

*Added in 2021

Experience Leaders Circle

The Experience Leaders Circle again adjusted to the realities of the year, bringing together almost 40 Chief Experience Officers (CXOs) and Senior Experience Leaders for a year long dialog on what was impacting experience strategy and outcomes in 2021.

Over a series of weekly calls and quarterly meetings, the XLC focused on addressing the realities of the pandemic from setting visitation and guest policies, to managing vaccination requirements, to workforce and staffing issues. The group also explored a critical issue that surfaced through the pandemic: the future of experience measurement. Through a series of conversations and workgroups, XLC is finalizing a clear and purposeful call to action on what experience measurement can and must be as we lead the experience movement forward.

Community Conversations

Launched in April 2020 in response to the COVID-19 pandemic and continued in 2021, Community Conversations shared key headlines and reflections from our community on current events and relevant topics. We offered 12 Community Conversations with over 1,100 registrations and over 500 people attending.

Community Conversations in 2021:

- End of Year Community Reflection
- Member Focus Group
- Mindfulness: Caring for Yourself and Your Colleagues
- The Impact of Telehealth on the Patient and Human Experience
- Infusing the voice of patients and families across your organization
- The State of Patient Experience 2021: Transforming the Human Experience
- Reexamining ‘Defining Patient Experience’: The Human Experience in Healthcare
- Transforming the Human Experience in Healthcare
- Elevating the Human Experience in Ambulatory Care
- Conversations on Consumer Perspectives
- Ensuring Positive Staff and Provider Experience
- Setting a Path for Experience Advocacy

PX Book Club

PX Book Club provided an opportunity for members of The Beryl Institute to gather virtually for facilitated reflections, questions and lessons gathered from reading a book related to today’s healthcare system. This year, the PX Book Club discussed two books that focused on systemic racism and health disparities and one that illuminated the dysfunction in disconnection between caregiver and patient.

We read, reviewed and discussed:

- “The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down”
  Anne Fadiman

- “Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents”
  Isabel Wilkerson

- “In Shock: My Journey from Death to Recovery and the Redemptive Power of Hope”
  Rana Awdish

Connection Calls

Connection Calls provide opportunity for networking and idea sharing with peers. In addition to a discussion on a pre-announced topic, each call includes time for general discussion on the issues relevant to the community. In 2021, we recorded 14 connection calls with members of the Institute. We covered topics related to ambulatory care and volunteering during the pandemic.

Ambulatory Care Connection Call Recordings
- Measurement in the Ambulatory Care Environment
- Staff Training and Development

Patient Advocacy Connection Call Recordings
- Lost Belongings
- Because of COVID
- Addressing Workplace Violence

Volunteer Professionals Connection Call Recordings
- The Changing Face of Hospital Gift Shops through the Pandemic
- Adapting Junior Volunteer Programs to Safely Engage Students
- Retaining Volunteers when They Can’t be On-site
- Phasing Volunteers Back (Addressing Safety, Training and Recruiting)

- The Future of Healthcare Volunteer Programs - Where do we go from here?
- Gaining Leadership Support for Volunteer Professionals
- Supporting the Declaration for Human Experience as Volunteer Professionals
- Return of Pet Therapy for Patients, Caregivers and Families
- Embracing New Traditions In Care: Volunteer Baby Cuddler Program

PX Week

In 2021, we celebrated PX week virtually by encouraging our community to engage via social media using the hashtag #PXWeek2021 and tagging our accounts @TheBerylInstitute in their posts. Each day of the week, we offered a new social media challenge and chose a winning post to receive an item from our PX store.

PX Week 2021 Social Media Challenges:

- Monday, April 26: Recognize a co-worker who went above and beyond in the past year to provide an exceptional experience for patients, colleagues or staff. Tag them and share their story.
- Tuesday, April 27: Upload a short video about what elevating the human experience in healthcare means to you and your team.
- Wednesday, April 28: Share a story or image of hope that inspires you and drives you to continue to elevate the human experience in healthcare.
- Thursday, April 29: Tag a patient experience related non-profit that is meaningful to you and describe their mission.
- Friday, April 30: Share a picture of how you and your team are celebrating #PXWeek2021.

Healthcare Volunteer Week

National Volunteer Week was established in 1974 to recognize and celebrate the efforts of volunteers across the country. It is a time to honor and thank hospital volunteers for their commitment to patient care and their compassion toward patients, staff and the community. Volunteers are known for their work in supporting emergency departments, cardiac care areas, neonatal intensive care units, wayfinding areas, physical therapy departments and community health services. These volunteers also make an impact within risk management arenas, in hospice care, and within transportation, food pantries, lending closets and gift shops.

Theme ideas for celebrating this year included:

- Volunteering a Work of Heart
- We Can’t Mask Our Gratitude
- Making the World of a Difference
Patient experience remained a top priority for healthcare in 2021. From innovative patient experience research to real-world patient experience improvement efforts, our library of patient experience resources continued to grow and expand topics across the continuum of care.

2021 State of Patient Experience: Transforming the Human Experience

The State of Patient Experience 2021: Transforming the Human Experience engages voices from 33 countries across the globe providing a robust and diverse perspective on understanding operational priorities and how people are executing on patient experience in their organizations.

Since the launch of its first biennial benchmarking study in 2011, the Institute continues to expand the conversation on experience. The study reinforces that patient experience is now a recognized field of practice supported by a diverse and rich community of professionals and clinicians, patients, family members and care partners who stood together in leading this growth.

The study reveals relevant and practical data and insights, providing clarity on the state of patient experience across the continuum of care. According to the research:

- Experience efforts are increasingly driven by a desire to provide better outcomes, and addressing health disparities is now an essential factor.
- Employee engagement and culture remain top priorities for investment, as telemedicine and addressing health disparities see rapid rise.
- Experience efforts continue to mature, and a formal mandate for experience has never been higher.
- Organizations continue to most often adopt or adapt the foundational definition of patient experience.
- Experience continues to be seen as a holistic effort, and experience outcomes are influenced by an integrated focus with expanded recognition of the role of technology, policy and structure.
- Top supports and roadblocks for experience hold steady, while a focus on leadership and concerns for caregiver burnout rises.
Consumer Study

Consumer Perspectives on Patient Experience 2021

Consumer Perspectives on Patient Experience 2021 evaluates responses from over 2,000 consumers in the United States, Canada, the Philippines, Australia and the United Kingdom to reveal the qualities consumers look for in their healthcare experience. A follow-up to The Beryl Institute’s 2018 Consumer Report, the study’s findings remain largely consistent with the findings from two years prior, even throughout the COVID-19 pandemic.

The goal of this global inquiry was to identify what matters most to healthcare consumers and provide tangible takeaways to help healthcare organizations improve experience. The overarching message from consumers is organizations must do better at listening, communicating and partnering with patients and their families and the healthcare workforce in order to succeed.

The report illustrates key considerations for healthcare organizations and leaders to excel at improving patient experience:

- Build processes to ensure consumers feel listened to and communicated with effectively.
- Commit to and ensure an integrated approach to experience.
- Equip and empower everyone in your organization to deliver a consistently exceptional experience.
- Remember that the continuum of care expands far beyond facility walls.
- Connect experience to outcomes, brand loyalty and the bottom line.

PX Pulse

Consumer Perspectives on Patient Experience in the U.S.

In 2021, we were excited to release three issues of PX Pulse.

May - The first report reveals that consumer ratings for the quality of healthcare in America has dropped by ten-percentage points since Q4 2020, with less consumers who state that healthcare quality is “very good” or “good.”

September - The second report explores the impact COVID has had on consumer decision-making and perspective. In addition, the realities of health disparities and health equity are examined a year after these questions were first explored.

December - In the third report, the impact of COVID-19 continues to be explored along with such topics as health system perceptions and trust, comfort in seeking care and consumers’ ratings for quality of care and experience.
Central to our shared commitment to improving the patient experience is this series of informative and thought-provoking publications that dig into the critical issues facing the healthcare industry today. We published seven white papers in 2021.

White Papers

- Consumer Perspectives on the Patient Experience 2021
- Improving Outcomes: The Impact of Experience in Ambulatory Care
- Reexamining “Defining Patient Experience”
- A Global Perspective on Elevating the Human Experience in Healthcare
- Becoming The Best Place To Be: Elevating the Human Experience in Senior Living
- The Role of Revenue Cycle in Elevating the Human Experience
- The Power of Self-Healing: Improving Experience Through Mindfulness
Grant/Scholar Recipients

The mission of the annual grant and scholar program supports patient experience research efforts and represents our ongoing commitment to expanding the conversation, learning and sharing around improving the patient experience in the healthcare industry.

We awarded grants to nine healthcare organizations and three scholars in 2021:

Grant Recipients

- Northwell Health, New Hyde Park, NY - A qualitative study examining descriptive characteristics of a patient experience leader within a hospital setting
- University of Maryland St. Joseph Medical Center, Towson, MD - Improving the patient experience for hospitalized patients through a recreational art program
- Providence Institute for Human Caring, Dana Point, CA - Improving health equity, patient engagement and the care experience with storytelling
- Maimonides Medical Center, Brooklyn, NY - Leveraging the Patient Experience to Enhance Resident Joy in Work
- Southwestern Health Resources, Mansfield, TX - What matters to patients? Assessing the quality of the patient journey through questionnaires or interview instruments that capture patients’ perceptions of satisfaction
- Centura Health, Parker, CO - Do patient comments gathered by digital two-way texting provide more relevant insights into patient satisfaction and experience than comments offered in HCAHPS and ED CAHPS surveys?
- GROW Niagara Health, St. Catharines, ON, Canada - Exploring the impact of digital visit preparation on patient satisfaction with prenatal care at an obstetrics clinic
- Banner Health, Phoenix, AZ - Can a PX mini-grants program lead to greater engagement of employees in improving patient-reported outcome metrics in acute and ambulatory settings?
- Ascension Valley Residence, Chattanooga, TN - A study on how the Reading2Connect® Program impacts the social/emotional well-being of long-term care residents and the level of stress and of job satisfaction of staff

Scholar Recipients

- Claire Hutchinson, PhD in Nursing, Sydney Local Health District / University of Sydney (Susan Wakil School of Nursing & Midwifery), Emerald Beach, NSW, Australia - Will implementing an improved communication protocol improve nursing stress levels and improve patient safety outcomes related to pressure injuries?
- Gloria Sanmartín Antolín, PhD in Business, University of Barcelona Business School and Patient Experience Coordinator, Quironsalud - Defining the outpatient patient experience in a real hospital through the definition of a Case Study
- Tammy Thompson, AIA, CPXP, EDAC, EdD (c), Doctor of Education, Charleston Southern University and Director of Experience Design, Vidant Health - How might design and creative thinking facilitation serve as useful tools for nurse innovation?

It was exciting to see engagement grow since PX 101 became available in July 2018 with 62 organizations using this educational resource. Organizations continue to explore this exciting resource and are in various stages of the implementation cycle.

In response to discussion with organizations using PX 101, we added implementation support options. Current and new users are offered a 30-minute implementation session to support the staff preparing to deliver PX 101. Co-facilitation support is also available for a nominal fee.

Certification Preparation Courses

Certified Patient Experience Professional (CPXP)

The Certificate Patient Experience Professional (CPXP) Preparation Workshops continued to be a valuable resource for the PX community. Workshops were conducted live online to prepare participants for the CPXP exam. With 6 cohorts including a total of 148 participants, the live online workshops each consisted of four facilitator-led sessions.

Certified Administrator of Volunteer Services (CAVS)

Patient Experience Institute, a sister organization of The Beryl Institute, provides CAVS certification, a designation intended for healthcare professionals or other individuals with an interest in volunteer leadership. The purpose of CAVS certification is to promote healthcare volunteer services management.

In 2021, we offered 1 cohort with 8 participants.

Awards

These awards provide a platform for sharing and celebrating some of the great work being done across the globe to improve the human experience in healthcare.

PX Innovation Awards

We understand the effort it takes to change cultures, implement new strategies and build true partnerships with patients and families. In order to recognize those efforts, we will honor and celebrate innovations from organizations, patient/family advisors and individual healthcare professionals.

Organizational Innovation Award
Awarded to a healthcare organization dedicated to innovations that improve the human experience in healthcare.

Innovative Healthcare Professional Award
Awarded to a healthcare professional who created or led an innovation which resulted in positive change.

Innovative Patient/Family Advisor Award
Awarded to a PFA who led or inspired an innovation which resulted in positive change.

NYC Health + Hospitals Jacobi, Bronx, NY
Dr. Gita Lisker, Northwell Health
Christina Bane
Wendy Leebov Championing Experience Award

The Wendy Leebov Championing Experience Award recognizes and honors an individual in healthcare who has made an outstanding contribution to the field of patient experience and fostered human connections in healthcare.

We were pleased to honor Carol Santalucia with the 2021 Wendy Leebov Award.

Ruth Ravich Patient Advocacy Award

The Ruth Ravich Patient Advocacy Award is presented by the Patient Advocacy Council of The Beryl Institute. Awarded annually since 1991, first by the Society for Healthcare Consumer Advocacy (SHCA) Board of Directors, and now by the thought leaders of the Patient Advocacy Council, the award recognizes an individual for outstanding contributions, dedication, leadership and loyal service to fellow Patient Advocates.

We were pleased to honor Linda Van der Voort with the 2021 Ruth Ravich Award.

Volunteer Professionals Award for Excellence

The Volunteer Professionals Award for Excellence recognizes individuals who have demonstrated exemplary service and contribution to the profession of healthcare volunteer management. The award began under the Association for Health Care Volunteer Resource Professionals (AHVRP) in 2006. With the transition of AHVRP into The Beryl Institute community in 2020, we are honored to carry on this tradition of recognition.

We were pleased to honor Maura Campbell with the 2021 Volunteer Professionals Award.
Patient Experience Journal (PXJ) Awards

The Patient Experience Journal (PXJ) Awards celebrate powerful contributions to the literature and articles of impact in research and practice and introduce rising stars who are working to expand evidence and insights on patient experience and the human experience in healthcare. In 2021, we recognized the winners of the 2020 awards.
